Here is the first in a series of looks at some accommodating spots to dine outdoors this summer. BAROLO * + (212) 226-1102; 398 West Broadway, near Spring Street; $$$; all major credit cards One of the prettier and more spacious outdoor gardens downtown can be found at this spirited northern Italian restaurant. The enchanting walled-in garden with spotlighted trees, terra-cotta floors and a balcony is hidden behind the two main handsome dining rooms, far from the street fumes and noise. Among starters are a salad combining grilled shrimp, beets and green beans in a balsamic vinaigrette, and beef carpaccio with arugula and shaved Parmesan. Pastas seem to be the strong cards, including gnocchi in a pesto sauce with green beans and potatoes, rigatoni with eggplant and ricotta cheese, and cappelletti with calamari and broccoli. Simple roasted or sauteed fish and meat are done well, too. Among offerings are grilled salmon with mustard sauce, grilled veal chop with shiitake and grilled tuna with a sauce of eggplant.
